ON SCHOOL GROUNDS

Every Resident of This District
Should Contribute His or Her Mite—A Five Cent
Piece May Save a Life
and Lives Are Precious

The rain on Thursday night last caused a good many of the citizens of this fair town to be disappointed, as they had figured on attending the big patriotic concert on the school grounds, but they will have a chance to do so on Thursday night of this week.

The ladies in charge of the Hospital Campaign Fund in GRIMSBY
have done excellent work and all they need now to crown it all is a large attendance at the concert tomorrow night.

It is up to every citizen of this district to attend this concert and contribute their mite. England has protected Canada since Canada was a wilderness and Canada is today returning the compliment.

Anything that the ladies can do towards helping the army and navy
they are doing. The hospital ship is a good thing and the other fund
to provide for the families of the soldiers who have gone to the front is also an admirable cause and GRIMS-BYITES should do their share.

Remember that right tonight forty two of the best of GRIMSBY'S young men are sleeping on the hard cold ground of Valcartier camp after a hard day's drill. A few short weeks and they will be at the front doing Canada's share and GRIMSBY'S share in the fight for the flag and the empire. GRIMSBY has given the best of her men for the old Motherland and it is no more than right
that they should be given every comfort possible as should every Canadian.

You may only be able to contribute
a five cent piece, but that five cent piece may be the means of saving
one of your own town boys' lives.
You will never miss your contribution no matter how small it is and it will do a world of good.

The programme arranged is a good one and includes selections by the 44th Regt. band, solos by several of this district's best artists and speeches by our prominent gentlemen.

The grounds will be lighted and decorated and there will be refreshments for sale.

ling's "Absent Minded Beggar" may

Major Patrie, St Catharines, Ont.

Your Worship:—On behalf of the citizens of Grimsby, I wish to convey to you, and through you to the City of St Catharines
our sincere thanks and gratitude
for the very kind and courteous
attention given to our boys of
"B" Squadron, Second Dragoons, during their stay in your city while awaiting orders to proceed to the Front. I have been informed, through Lieut.
Livingston, that you did everything in your power to make it pleasant for them, for which their friends and the citizens of Grimsby are truly grateful.

Believe me, sir,
Yours very truly,

FOODSTUFFS CHEAP

Edinburgh Is Like an Armed Camp, Soldiers Every-

Call Being Well
Answered

The following very interesting letter was received by the INDEPEND-ENT on Monday, from Mr. F. G. H.
Pattison of Winona, who is at present in Scotland:

Edinburgh, Scotland.
Jas. A. Livingston,
GRIMSBY, Ont., Canada

Dear Livingston:—Some account of my journey and of conditions here at the present time will probably be acceptable to your readers.

I have already written an account of the trip to Montreal and down the St. Lawrence, which I will send you presently.

The voyage across the Atlantic was unaccompanied by any great excitement. The vessel—S. S. Athenia of the Donaldson Line—Montreal to Glasgow—in a 10,000 ton boat and very steady in a rough sea. She had only of cabin passengers and about 100 steerage.

We had very pleasant weather going down the St. Lawrence and after we left the gulf, the weather became very cool and for one or two days
we had to keep the foghorn going night
and day, because of fog.

We had it fairly smooth till within a couple of days of the Irish coast,
when it became very rough for a couple of days. Most of us, however,
by that time had become accustomed to the motion so that but few were sick and those mostly of the fair sex.

We were equipped with wireless
and for the first day or two had regular bulletins posted as to the state of events in Europe; but after that—
by the captain's orders, no more bulletins were published till we were within a day or so of landing. For five or six days we ran with all our port holes covered over at night and no lights of any kind showing, so we made up our minds that Great Britain
was at war.

The Athenia carried 114,000 bushels of wheat, a lot of flour, cheese,
etc., so that she would have made a valuable prize for the enemy; but we saw no warships of any kind till we reached the entrance to the Irish channel and then we saw our own cruisers only.

After entering the channel the scenery is very fine all the way to Greenock, at the entrance to the Clyde. This place we reached at 7 a.m. on Monday, the 18th and as the tide did not suit, the passengers were forwarded by special train to Glasgow. We were taken ashore in a small steamer about 9.15 and the unloading of the baggage and the passengers.

CAMP IS A BIG ONE.

Night

In writing from Valcartier, Quebec, where Canada's mighty Overseas Contingent is gathering, Lieut. Livingston reports that the boys of "Fighting B" Squadron are all well and have a good time, he says the work is going to be hard, as the "Fighting B" boys are cavalry and
the infantry drill is very different,
but he has no fear but that the GRIMSBY lads will come out right side up with care.

He says "Our bunch have been placed along with the boys from the 17th Regt. Dundas and we are all pleased to be with Capt. Homer Carpenter, Major Kimmings and the boys whom we know." Both Lieut.
Long and Livingston have been allowed to retain their commissions and Squadron Sergeant-Major Ross has been made Provisional Lieutenant.
Sergeant Mackie has been made Junior Sergeant. Trooper Morris has been made Orderly Room Sergeant and Trooper Thomas has been made Regt.
Sergeant cook. If the boys are able to handle the work they expect to hold these positions in the contin-gent that leaves Canada and they will have a chance for further promotion.

"Buck" is the company barber, and
is quite evident, he says. "Coming
down on the train we had the clean-
est and most quiet and orderly car
on the train—no boozing at all, but lots
of fun.

That the GRIMSBY boys conducted themselves in a gentlemanly and soldierly manner on the way to Quebec
is quite evident, he says. "Coming
down on the train we had the clean-
est and most quiet and most orderly car on the train—no boozing at all,
but lots of fun.

"We arrived in Quebec at 12.30 Friday and everybody was happy. It rained all day and things were not very comfortable but thanks to the good work of Cook-Sergeant Thomas we soon had our issues of rations and blankets and rubber sheets. There are fourteen men in each tent and five officers to a tent. "Trouble" Van Dyke came as far as Montreal with

OFF TO THE FRONT

Edward J. Harshaw, who enlisted at Niagara Falls, for service at the front is the youngest son of Mr.
and Mrs. John Harshaw, of Beamsville and brother to M. L. Harshaw of GRIMSBY. He was born in the town of Lindsay in 1895 and came to North GRIMSBY when a child of two years of age and has resided in the Township ever since, with the exception of two years, when he was in Toronto, where he made a splendid reputation for himself as an all-round athlete at the West End Y.
M. C. A. In writing to his parents on the way to Valcartier, he said he made up his mind at the time of the Burr war, that if there ever was a chance for active service he would take it, and was one of the first to offer himself.

FRUIT FOR VAL CARTIER

Grimsby, Ontario, 25th August 1914

To The Editor
The Independent,
Grimsby

Dear Sir:

The Township Council have undertaken to arrange with the farmers and fruit-growers for presenting a car of fruit and vegetables to the troops forming the overseas contingent at present in camp at Val Cartier.

Will you kindly let the farmers and fruit growers know
through your columns that either Councillors Sutherland, Beamer, Marlow or myself will be glad if they kindly inform one of us as to the number of baskets of fruit and vegetables they can see their way to contribute, in order that we may be able to arrange for the assembling and loading of the car.

Yours Faithfully

SMILES AND TEARS

Small Town Gave the Boys
Huge Baskets of Food, Delicacies and Tobacco to Cheer
Them on Their Way

Smiles mingling with the tears, the "Fightin' Forty-fourth" pulled out of camp at Beaverdam, Thursday morning, on their way to Valcartier and the front.

The men, many of whom are old-timers in the game of war, were in excellent condition, and though their throats were choked and their voices a little uncertain because of the noise within, they gamely forced
a smile and tried to hide their emotions under a cloak of friendly jokes
and banter.

With the Thorold band gaily playing the 44th Regimental March, one hundred and fifty red-coated infantry men marched from camp through the flag-draped streets of Thorold to the N. E. & T. station, where they were to embark for Niagara Falls. The streets were thronged with friends
and relatives of the departing men
and as they swung down the main thoroughfare they were greeted by cheer after cheer. White-haired mothers, sobbing sisters, sweethearts
with tear-dimmed eyes, and fathers, whose one firm grasp reveals to the boy all of the hidden secrets of the heart, were there to bid the gallant lads farewell.

Farewell at Thorold
The men were drawn up in battalion formation before leaving and were addressed by Mayor Joseph Bettie, Alderman Leslie McManis, Frank Keefer, K.C., and Rev. H. Kelley.

Among other things, Mr. Kelley said, "I am confident that every man of you will do his duty. Remember that the eyes of Canada are upon you and I am sure that the soldiers of Canada shall prove no less valiant than they have in previous wars. I than they repeat the message of our King to express my own feelings,
"May God bless you—and return victorious."

"We cannot do too much in behalf of our soldiers, so nobly leaving for across the sea," said Mr. McManis.
"and Canada will certainly look after the families left at home. You are going to fight in the name of the greatest empire on earth, and because you are a part of that great empire I consider it the duty of every citizen, not able to leave, to thank you."

Mr. Keefer gave briefly the history of the 44th Regiment and complimented the Canadian militia
on their excellent spirit and military bearing. In closing he said, "Remember always that you are descended from an old fighting regiment and you have a reputation to uphold. You will carry on your shoulders Canada's name—may they bear it proudly."

CHEER CANADIAN FLAG

Excitement Is Running High
In England—Men Offer
Their Services by
the Thousands—Streets Are Packed

When the big Ocean Greyhound the
S. S. Megantic docked in Montreal on Sunday, there was at least one passenger on board who heaved a big sigh
of relief and was glad to once again
set foot on Canadian soil. This person was Mrs. Mary Hainer, of GRIMSBY, who has been visiting in London and different parts of England for the last three months, and she says that it was mighty hard work to get home at all.

The boat was loaded to her fullest capacity and Mrs. Hainer had to pay two pound twelve shillings more for a berth coming than she did going.
Women were separated from their husbands and every stateroom was filled with men or women exclusively.

She says, "The excitement in England is awful, men by the thousands are crowding around the war office
and the recruiting stations every day.
It seems as if every man in England
wants to go and fight. The streets are full of soldiers and the men and women and children through the streets
day and night seeking news from the front and cheering every soldier that comes along. The excitement got too much for me so I decided to come home, although when I left I intended to stay until October.

"The trip over on the boat was uneventful, the port holes were all covered and the deck lights were wrapped with heavy canvas. We only saw one boat. It looked like a cruiser,
but did not bother us."

When asked how the people of England felt about Canada, she said "You would almost think you were within five miles of this country to hear them talk about it. Canada's generous gift of flour, oats and men and the campaigns that they are carrying on for funds over here has set all England talking and the Canadian flag
is cheered to an echo by the crowds
every time one is seen. I tell you, England is proud of Canada."

HAND IS A HERO

Hand Has Saved Three People
from Drowning This Season
and Seven in the Last
Two Years—He
Is Deserving of
Some Kind of Recognition

The great presence of mind and good swimming of Joseph Hand, prevented a very sad and drowning fatality
at the Lake on Thursday afternoon
last.

Master Harry Game, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Game, Ontario
St. was in the lake between the piers
having a swim along with a bunch of other young lads.

The boys had been in and out of the lake several times and at the time of the accident most of the boys were lying around on the sand or sitting on the pier.

Young Game unnoticed by the other lads jumped into the water and was swimming around, he had apparently crossed the channel and then started back, when he went down.

Joe Hand was on the Beach and saw him sink and thought that something was wrong, but he took no chance on it being a case of fooling
but kicked off his pants and shoes and ran out on the pier and jumped in.
Game came to the surface and sank again. He came up the second time and immediately went down for the third time when Hand reached him.
Hand dived down and missed him,
but dived again and this time got hold
of him and brought him to the surface
and with a few strong strokes was alongside the pier, where Mr. Judson Konkile grabbed the boy and pulled him onto the pier.

The body was limp, but had very little water in it. They immediately set to work to resuscitate the little fellow and in a short time he was alive again, but very weak.

From the marks on the side of the pier, Game had tried very hard to save himself as the wet logs showed where he had grabbed hold but his hand had slipped off.

We are informed that this rescue
of Hand's is his third one this season and the seventh since the spring of 1913. None of the cases have been heard of to any extent, but the young boys who make a habit of swimming off the piers tell us that there would have been at least seven drownings
during the past two years had not Joe Hand been on the job.

We think that this young man is deserving of some recognition for his good work and we would like to see Council take the matter up and see if a medal and testimonial could not be secured for him.

Facts and Fancies

By Frank Fairborn

Another week has passed by and finds the two greatest armies that the world has ever seen gathered together, locked in deadly conflict, at this writing, Monday afternoon, Aug. 24.

The two opposing armies, consisting of 1,500,000 German troops on the one side and 700,000 French and 120,000 British on the other side, came together with a terrific shock.

The Germans started the attack with a brilliant dash that fairly shook the foundations of the earth. The troops advanced at great speed and so ponderous was the force of the shock against the ranks of the defenders that it was like the rush of a human tidal wave.

At no time since the conflict started was the desperate and terrific defence at Liege and in the surrounding country, by the Belgians, so significant in its results as it was on the morning of Saturday, Aug. 23, when the Germans made their first terrible onslaught on the allied French and British armies.

Had the Belgians not been able, by their bravery and their great fighting ability, to hold back the German advance for nearly two weeks, the French and British troops would have almost melted before the onslaught of the enormous German army like snow before an April sun—but the two weeks saved them.

The two weeks' respite gained for the allied army, by the desperate part taken by little Belgium, has probably saved the situation for the French nation, or at least assisted the allies to check the rush of the Germans.

During the two weeks' respite, the French and British had entrenched themselves, had brought up their artillery, placed their men, laid their plans and got forward their ammunition and food supplies and were ready for the terrific onslaught when it came.

The battle which raged all day Saturday, all day Sunday and which is still raging at the time of this writing, is in the neighborhood just slightly south of the famous battlefield of Waterloo, and although the battle of Waterloo was a terrible struggle, yet as compared with the battle which is now raging, it was as a child's play.

At the battle of Waterloo it is estimated that 50,000 British troops and their allies were on one side, while Napoleon's army numbered 100,000 or more, on the other side.

The forces engaged in the terrific shock today are estimated at 300,000 German troops of the first line supported by one million reservists on one side, and 700,000 French troops of the first line and 120,000 British regulars on the other side.

With regard to field guns, artillery, machine guns, aeroplanes and all other modern engines of destruction, the battle now raging is probably one hundred times as well equipped with armaments of destruction as were the combatants at the battle of Waterloo.

During the past week, events have been moving very rapidly, not only at the present war but in the whole world.

The Germans pressed steadily forward westerly, through Belgium. After passing Liege they first invested and captured Louvain. The Belgian army falling back after making a brilliant stand and doing great destruction to the advancing army. From Louvain the German army marched on to Brussels, a beautiful city with a population greater than that of the city of Toronto.

In order to save the city from destruction and its people from death and disaster, the seat of Government was removed to Antwerp and the Belgian army retired to the same city without making a fight.

This action on the part of the Belgians was a most wise one and the Germans invested, surrounded and passed the City of Brussels without doing it any great injury.

In the meantime, the City of Antwerp, which is one of the finest fortified cities in Europe, was still more strongly fortified and every precaution was taken to withstand an attack or siege. This city is built on a fine river, about sixty miles south-east of the English channel and can be approached by steamers, carrying either food, soldiers or ammunition and is, therefore, in a position to stand an indefinite siege and put up a desperate fight against an enemy.

It is thought by some experts that there are more soldiers in Antwerp than the Germans anticipate and that a sortie from the city may at any time take place against the flank or the rear of the enemy.

When the German army is engaged with the allies, there is no doubt that a sortie from Antwerp could work great disaster in the rear.

In the meantime, the allies were perfecting their defences, digging trenches, placing their field pieces, bringing up their ammunition and food supplies and in every way getting ready to encounter the horde of Germans which were then approaching.

While the Germans were marching westward through Belgium, the allied armies of France and Great Britain were preparing for their reception in the south of Belgium.

The French army corps which have been operating in Alsace and Lorraine were making history. The French army corps operating in Alsace met with steady success and drove the Germans back gradually, killing them in great numbers, taking many prisoners and much ammunition, guns and food. This army corps is not far from the fortified city of Strasbourg, on the Rhine, and it is their intention, in due time, to attack that city.

The army corps operating in Lorraine, while at first successful, met with reverses last week and was compelled to retire in face of overwhelming odds.

There has been no fresh fighting in either place for the past few days.

On the eastern frontier of Germany and Austria, events are happening thick and fast. Russia is marching into Austria and also into Germany and according to appearances is meeting with success at every encounter.

The German corps engaged on the eastern frontier of Germany, consist of the troops of the second line and reservists and although they are putting up a desperate fight, they have been driven back on every occasion by the Russians and have lost many men in killed, wounded and prisoners, besides considerable quantities of guns, ammunition and food.

In Austria the Russian army is also making good progress, so that it will not be long until the German War Lord will have to turn his attention more seriously to the eastern frontier than he has done in the past few weeks.

Little Serbia is still covering itself with glory. In a terrific battle on the River Drina last week, it defeated an immense Austrian army and killed 20,000 soldiers besides taking a great number of prisoners and a large amount of war material.

The rout of the Austrians was complete, many of them being driven into the river and drowned, while others fled helter-skelter to the hills; pursued by the Serbians who are all veteran warriors, fresh from the fields of success against the Turks a year ago.

In Asia events are also moving rapidly. Germany refused to give a satisfactory reply to an ultimatum from Japan and on Sunday, Aug. 23, Japan declared war against Germany and ordered its fleet and army to move.

Italy has stood out neutral, but present indications are that within a short time it will declare war against Austria and declare itself an ally of France and Great Britain.

There has been a tendency in some of the cities for the people to lay by stores of some of the necessities of life, such as sugar, flour and tea, in the fear that there might be a scarcity of these things later on, on account of the war.

While I believe in thrift, prudence and forethought, yet I think it is wrong in a case of this kind for people who are well off to raise the price of the necessities of life by buying unusual quantities, in order that they may make themselves safe, to the detriment of the whole community.

The rich man is able to buy and has forethought and prudence enough to buy, but the poor man very often is unable to buy and consequently cannot take advantage of his own forethought and prudence. The result is that the rich man, by buying in excessive quantities, forces the market price up and the poor man has to pay extortionate prices when he is least able to do so.

I hope that Canadians will show their loyalty, not only to their country, by contributions of their men and means towards assisting the Motherland in her tremendous fight, but that they will show their loyalty to their fellow men by refraining from doing anything that would work to the detriment of the community and especially the poor of the community.

If there is going to be a famine, let us all suffer through it equally, and never let it be said that while the poor were starving the rich men were living on the fat of the land.

There was a tendency, a week or two ago, for the well-to-do people in the cities to rush and buy unusual amounts of flour, sugar, cured meats, tea and other staple commodities. The consequence was that the market was forced up rapidly, to the detriment of trade and to the detriment of things in general.

There is no possible chance that there could be any famine in wheat, vegetables, or meats in Canada, because Canada will not only produce all of these things within herself, but she can easily get an abundance of them from the United States, if required.

If there does become a famine in sugar or tea we can quite easily get along without either of these things.

During the crisis through which our country is now passing, let every citizen do his share to make conditions better instead of worse. Let every citizen show a spirit of buoyancy rather than a spirit of depression, so that we will only have to suffer for our real troubles and not from artificial troubles.

THE WAR-LORE OF EUROPE

Oh! The War-Lord of Europe beware of the day
When the allies will meet you in battle array,
For the fields lay covered with dead in my sight,
And your legions of battle are ordered to fight.

Like a soulless invader you attacked Belgium Town,
No respect for your treaties, nor her neutral ground;
With your armies you battled, week in and week out,
But the heroes of Belgium turned your legions to rout.

The Lion is awakened—beware of her paw,
When she raises in anger to smite at your jaw;
Like a snowflake in furnace before the great heat,
Your armies in battle will melt and retreat.

Like a coward in a corner, watching his chance,
Your army is hidden as with an avalanche;
While Britain's fleet, drawn in battle array,
All manned with her heroes darts you out in the bay.

To the east of your Empire, you challenged the Bear
To come out of his slumber and fight if he dared—
Though slow in accepting, he's now out for fight,
And was to the Kaiser when he strifes with his might.

To the west of your Empire, the Republic of France
You have dared like the others in your ignorance,
But now to your legions the day they will meet—
The trio of nations with their heroes to beat.

You may laugh, proud Kaiser, my vision to scorn,
Then War-Lord of Europe, thy phrase shall be torn;
And to death and captivity thou shalt be led,
With the trio of nations, who for liberty bled.

—McKay.

THE WAR SONG

By A. J. Davies.

(To be sung to the air, "The War in the Green.")

O, Wilhelm dear, and did your dear,

The news that's going round?

Old England's lion is at last

Awake to battle's sound.

And growing he's advancing

Like a thunderclap afar.

You'd better run back home again,

And hide behind your men.

For though your talk is fine and big,

And your whiskers awe-inspiring,

Big talk will not a battle win.

Or whiskers aid the fight.

So, Wilhelm dear, just listen here,

Waste this advice we tender.

It is not wise to play with fire,

Unless outside the fender.

O, Willie, you've incurred the wrath

Of every power that counts,

And you'll be called upon in square

Some day to fight the war.

The French, the Russians and the Serbs

Will all be at your throat,

And every Christian nation now

Is out to get your goat.

For Bill, you know, you don't fight

fair

On this we all agree,

And if you don't climb down a piece,

You'll soon be up a tree.

And every British subject,

At home and 'cross the sea,

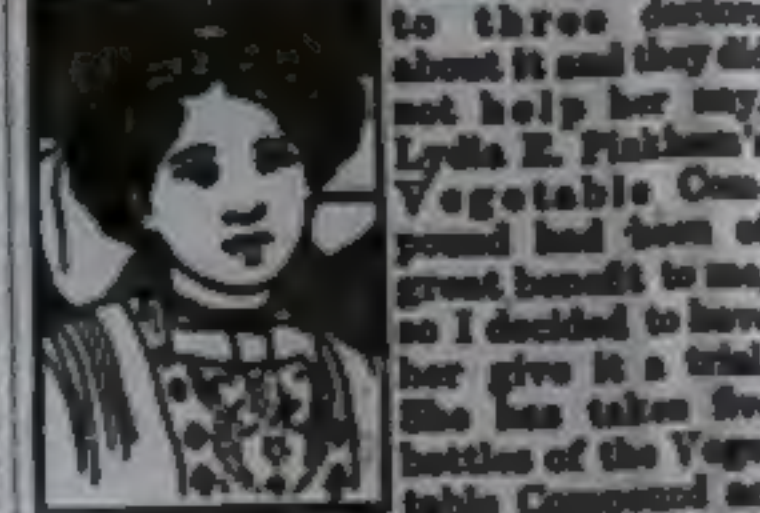

Will rally round the good old flag,

To wipe out Germany.

MOTHER OF

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Prosser, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN KELVIN, Prosser, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this great old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

PAPAIPEMA NITELLA

A few weeks ago Mr. J. G. Weeks, of Abingdon, discovered a new kind of an insect attacking his potatoes and sent a sample to Guelph and Ottawa.

We print herewith the letters received from these two places and their explanations.

Ottawa, Aug. 17, 1914

Mr. J. W. Weeks,

Abingdon, Ont.

Dear Sir:—I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 14, with the enclosure of infested potato stalk which has been transferred to this branch from the Experimental Farm.

The insect is the caterpillar of the Stalk Borer, Papaipema nitella. It bores in various plants such as potatoes, tomatoes, corn and in numbers of weeds, including rag-weed. The weeds are probably its normal food plants and the destruction of weeds during the summer to destroy the caterpillars is a necessary method of control. The weeds should be burned or buried to kill the caterpillars. On small patches of potatoes the infested vines should be removed and burned, or buried so the contained caterpillars will be destroyed. Fall ploughing is of some benefit.

Nothing can be done, of course, for the plants already infested. These insects are usually controlled by parasites and seldom spread over a large area. Clean culture and fall ploughing will probably prevent any serious loss in the future.

I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant,
C. Gordon Hunter,
Dominion Entomologist.

Guelph, Aug. 14, 1914.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of August 9, to Professor C. A. Zavitz, has been handed to this department.

The worm which you sent has unfortunately been lost, but from the description of its work, it is probably the Potato Stalk Borer. This worm is the larva of one of the stout bodied beet moths, or millers, which you find flying so commonly at various times of the year. This insect is usually local in its occurrence and as a rule it does not give serious trouble during consecutive years in one locality.

The most satisfactory means of controlling this worm, is that which you are practicing, that is, the destruction of the tops, associating with this destruction of all the weeds in the neighborhood of the field, should be carried on, as this will do away with most of the food plants of the insect. I would be much obliged to you if you would send me a considerable number of these worms in order that I might rear them through and obtain the life history and determine the exact species, definitely.

Yours truly,
A. W. Baker.

Dear Sir:—

A number of the Women's Institutes in the Province responded most liberally to the appeal for funds to supply a hospital ship to the Imperial Navy. Many others are prepared to give money donations and to supply articles of clothing, etc., to the soldiers. In view of the fact that many inquiries have been made of the Department, we have circulated the Department giving them authority to send such proportion of the funds on hand as they can spare to the Red Cross Society. They have also been asked to do their part in collecting funds and supplying the articles listed below. Circulars have been sent only to the officers and we are asking the press of the Province to give publicity to the appeal.

10,000 to 12,000 handkerchiefs—Sizes 18 in. x 18 in., made of cheese cloth which should be washed before made up.

2,000 to 3,000 Choiera Belts—12 in. wide and 34 in. to 44 in. long. To be made of ordinary yarn, either red or grey, two inches of each end to be knitted with steel needles and centre eight inches to be knitted with bone needles.

ST. BONIFACE DE SHAWINIGAN, QUE.

Feb. 3rd, 1914.

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 3½ years, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-lives'. While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and it came to a point when I could not sleep down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take 'Fruit-a-lives' and at once I felt a great improvement. After I had taken four or five boxes, I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they were acting gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take 'Fruit-a-lives' for they are the medicine that cures."

PRINCESS' PADDY'S PETS.

There's Bill, the color-sergeant. On the Mangerfontein trek

He got a Manger bullet in his regimental neck.

And you can see the white-y scar, It's just beneath his stock.

See he is hard as nails today and solid as a rock.

The Spaniards broke his arm, But now it's strong as trunnions and it's working like a charm.

And when the Princess beckoned, and displayed her pretty smiles

Most any gent among us would have come a million miles.

So here we are with forty rounds, And you may lay some bets

The cursed foe will have to "go" To lick Patricia's Pets.

Daggon the trapper bunks with me. He sits a grisly bear.

And that's the reason why he has but half a head of hair.

He swears in French, accomplished gent, and he's a whale at cards.

And he can shoot a bumble-bee at sixteen hundred yards.

Then down the ranks is Yankee Jake, 'cause war is his delight,

An arrow punched his gizzard in a Filipino fight.

So when the Princess reckoned him and showed her pretty smiles

He cracked his heels, and said, "By Jingo, I'd go a million miles!"

And here he is with forty rounds Prepared to go to Metz.

The foxy fox is bound to know About Patricia's Pets.

McClendless used to be a cop. A burglar bit his ear.

And 'pon me soul, the beggar's marks in most amazing clear.

ADRIFT ON LAKE ONTARIO IN A SMALL ROW BOAT

Fred Ayles and Harry Lundy, Thirty Mountain, Have an Exciting Time at the Beach on Sunday

ADRIFT THREE HOURS

At One Time They Were Out of Sight of Land—Hand Brothers of Grimsby Rescue Them With Their Big Launch

To be adrift in a small boat on Lake Ontario, for over three hours, with a high wind blowing off the shore and a good sized sea running and the boat shipping water, is an experience that none of us would care to have, but two young lads about sixteen years old from over the Thirty Mountain went through that experience on Sunday, and are a mighty tickled pair of boys to-day that they are alive.

About two o'clock Fred Ayles and Harry Lundy, who reside on top of the Thirty Mountain, rented a row boat from the boat house at the beach and went out for a row. As soon as they had got a little way the wind caught them and started to blow them across the lake. They only had one pair of oars and worked as hard as they could, but were unable to make any headway towards the shore.

The wind kept them at a fair pace until at one time they were all of seven miles out in the lake and had lost sight of shore completely. The wind then changed a little and they came in towards shore a couple of miles, when the wind veered again and started them down the lake towards Port Dalhousie. In the meantime the boat had started to ship water and they had a busy time keeping it bailed out, using their hats to do the bailing.

Residents on shore saw the predicament that the boys were in and two light gasoline launches started to their rescue, but the sea and the wind retarded them and their engines stalled.

The Beachites then telephoned Ed. and James Hand and they started out in their big, powerful fishing launch, and after a few minutes scouting soon picked the row boat out and made for it at high speed.

When the Hand boys reached the boat it was about four miles out and two miles east of the beach. The lads were pretty nearly all in and the boat was about half full of water.

When the Hand boys docked with their cargo they were given a great reception and presented with a small purse of money by the big crowd for their great effort and their services in rescuing the young lads.

Both lads state that it is positively their first and last attempt as sailors on the Briny Deep.

UNIQUE TATTOO

Grand Stand performances at the Canadian National Exhibition are a source of never-fading interest and amusement to thousands of citizens who enjoy the varied programmes year after year, as well as to the many outsiders to whom they come as a distinct novelty. Among the attractions the tattoo is always most enthusiastically received and this year it promises to be exceptionally interesting. Ten bands, comprising four hundred musicians, will develop the theme of peace between Canada and the United States along original lines. They will represent the four nationalities—American, French, British and Canadian, and with the wave of patriotism that has swept over the country, the scene can be depended upon to create an atmosphere of unrivalled enthusiasm. After a short programme by the massed bands, following the march in to the accompaniment of regimental airs, the lights go out. Then an illuminated Stars and Stripes appears at one end of the arena and at the other a Union Jack. The bands play "Peace, Perfect Peace" and a huge dove settles down over the sister flags, providing a most impressive finale to the three hours' entertainment.

THE WHITING NURSERY COMPANY STILL AT OLD GAME

Their Methods of Doing Business Were Exposed by the "Fruit Grower and Farmer" Two Years Ago

NOW AT CLARKSON

Farmers Should Have Nothing to Do with Them—Buy Your Nursery Stock from Canadians

Apparently the Whiting Nursery Company won't take "No" for an answer.

Two years ago they did considerable business in the Niagara district, but their methods were exposed by THE FRUIT GROWER AND FARMER and they jumped to the Leamington district. THE FRUIT GROWER AND FARMER had been ahead of them and their stay in that locality was of very short duration.

Last year they worked in the Waterdown, Aldershot, Dundas and Ancaster district and did considerable business, many of the fruit growers and farmers having forgotten what they had read in THE FRUIT GROWER AND FARMER about this nursery firm, the year before, but the publicity they received in THE FRUIT GROWER AND FARMER last year was such that they could not do business again around Hamilton and so they moved on and we have just received reports that they are working in the Clarkson and Port Credit districts.

The line of work pursued by this nursery company is of such a nature that they cannot be stopped under the law against fraud, yet it is of such a nature that they succeed in getting a great many good, Canadian dollars for which they give no value.

The process of operation is as follows: A representative of the Company calls on a fruit grower or farmer and tells him that he is introducing a new kind of plum or a few new varieties of apple, high classed, choice plums. The representative is a good talker and he soon makes the farmer or fruit grower believe that the plum tree, which he is offering is one that will make him rich in a few years. The result is that the farmer very often orders a number of very ordinary plum trees at an extraordinary price of from eighty to eighty-five cents a piece.

The variety that was being offered in the Niagara district two years ago was "Shiro" a Japanese plum that can be bought in any standard Canadian nursery at from thirty to thirty-five dollars per hundred, yet the Whiting Nursery Company's representative succeeds in selling them to farmers and fruit growers for eighty-seven cents a piece.

We have not heard any complaints about the trees delivered by the Whiting Nursery Company and we assume that they are all right, but they are only worth from thirty to thirty-five cents a piece in the market.

We warn all the Canadian fruit growers and farmers against buying nursery stock from representatives of firms in the United States.

There are plenty of good nurseries in Canada where farmers can get nursery stock just as good and even better than they can in the United States and the proper place to buy nursery stock is from Canadian nurseries.

The competition is sufficiently keen between Canadian nurseries to keep the price at a fair market value, and the best answer to give to a representative from the Whiting Nursery Company or any other United States Company is to tell him that you will buy your goods from a Canadian firm.

fit in all right here:

When you've shouted "Rule Britannia"—when you've sung "God Save the King,"

When you've killed the Kaiser with your mouth ten times at least—

Will you kindly drop a quarter in your little tambourine

For a gentleman in khaki ordered suit?

He's an absent-minded beggar and his weaknesses are great—

But we and Bill must take him as we find him—

He is out on active service, wiping something off a slate—

And he's left a lot of little things behind him!

There are families we all know, far too proud to beg or speak—

And they'll put their chairs and bedding up the spout,

And they'll live on half of nothing paid 'em punctual once a week,

'Cause the man that earned the wage is ordered out.

He's an absent-minded beggar, but he heard his country's call,

And his rag-must didn't need to send to find him;

He chuckled his job and joined it—so the job before us all

Is to help the home that Tommy's left behind him!

Let us manage as we later we can look him in the face,

And tell him—what he'd very much prefer—

That while he saved the Empire his employer saved his place,

And his mate (that's you and me) looked out for her.

He's an absent-minded beggar, though he can shoot to kill,

But we do not want his kiddies to remind him

That we let 'em starve and freeze while their daddy hammered Bill,

So 'e'll help the home that Tommy's left behind him!

The idea has taken hold with many other, etc., and these with ice cream candy, will be on sale. So while the bread winners are away,

Each of 'em doing his country's work,

What have you got to spare?

Pass the hat for your country's sake,

And pay! Pay! Pay!

YOUNG GIRL ADMITS SHE LIED WHEN MAKING ACCUSATION

A couple of months ago Nelson Hodgkins, a resident of the Township of Gallop, was arrested by High Constable Boyle and brought to St. Catharines, on a charge of criminal assault preferred against him by a young girl named Hazel Taylor.

The girl was a ward of the Children's Aid Society, of Hamilton, and was sent to Mrs. Hodgkins by the agent of the Society; and it was charged by her that the offence was committed on a certain morning while Mrs. Hodgkins was away from home.

The case was heard by Mr. Campbell, the police magistrate and from the evidence given on oath by the girl, he had no option but to send the case for trial at the next Assizes to be held at St. Catharines on the 29th of September next, the accused being in the meantime released on bail to attend the Court at the proper time.

On the 21st of July last the girl, Hazel Taylor, wrote out and signed a statement in the presence of the matron of the Alexandra Industrial School, in which she confessed that the evidence given by her before the Magistrate was not true, and that in fact no assault whatever was committed by Mr. Hodgkins against her. This confession has been sent to the Crown Attorney, and that officer gave out the statement to-day, that in view of the conflicting statements made by the girl, the case will not go for trial.

As the charge made against Mr. Hodgkins was published by the INDEPENDENT at the time of the arrest and hearing, we now gladly publish the facts of the girl's retraction in order to counteract as far as possible any bad effect which the original publication may have had on Mr. Hodgkins' reputation, which has hitherto been irreproachable.

Alcohol is increased from $2.40 to $3 per gallon.

On alcoholic perfumes in small bottles the duty is raised from 50 to 60 per cent; in larger bottles the specific duty is raised from $2.40 to $3. The ad valorem duty to remain unchanged.

On spirits of nitre the duty is also raised from $2.40 to $3 per gallon.

On medicated wines the increase is from 50 to 60 per cent.

On malt flour a special war tax of 2c per pound is imposed in addition to the existing ad valorem duty of 33 per cent.

Paints and colors, ground in spirits, are increased from $1 to $1.25 per gallon.

The Excise Increases

The following are the increases in the excise duties:—

Spirits from $1.80 to $2.40 per gallon.

Malt liquors from 10 to 15c per gallon.

Malt from 1 1/2 to 2c per pound; crushed malt from 2 1/2 to 3c.

Manufactured tobacco from 5c to 10c per pound; cut tobacco and twist from 5c to 10c per pound.

Snuff and snuff flour from 5c to 10c per pound.

Cigars from $2 to $3 per thousand; if in small packages $3 to $4 per thousand.

Cigarettes, weighing not more than three pounds per thousand, from $2.40 to $3 per thousand; weighing more than three pounds per thousand from $7 to $8 per thousand.

In order to meet the action of distillers and brewers who have or warehouse their goods, with a view to avoiding expected war taxes, all the excise duties are made retroactive to August 7, and the same date applies to the import duties on liquors.

NOTE, INGLORIOUS WELLINGTONS

Abner Bliss would take them nations, an' he'd tell 'em certain things. That would make 'em see the folly of them emperors and kings. If he just could go to Europe, it would not be long before Everybody stopped their fighting and put by all thoughts o' war. He allows that he would learn 'em that this rumpus is a crime. But I guess he'll never do it, for his meals take too much time.

Henry Hanks says if this country just would do the thing t'at's right. It would take about an hour for to stop t'is awful fight. He has made a plan of action for our government to take. That would settle things in Europe in about a half a shake. He's explained his method to us, and it's sensible and sound; But he ain't got time to work it; he's too busy settin' round.

Aleck Judson says that nothin' ever makes him quite as sore as the European ignorance of the simple art of war. He has drawn us maps to show us how, if he was over there. He'd run one side or the other and he'd stop this fool affair. With one regiment of soldiers he could break up all the row. But he cannot go an' do it; he's too busy tellin' how.

Neuritis Follows Crippled Nerves

PAINFUL EFFECTS OF CHRONIC RHEUMATISM QUICKLY ROUTED BY RHEUMA

If your nerves are all crippled from attacks of Rheumatism, Neuritis can easily get a strong hold on the nerves. This most painful disease is one of the hardest known to expel, but RHEUMA can reach it if given a chance. This testimony is positive proof.

"Last March I was so crippled with Neuritis in left hand I could walk scarcely at all. Tried all remedies I heard of and had two physicians. Nothing did me any good until I used RHEUMA; $3 worth of your medicine surely cured me.—Mrs. C. E. Hayes, Russell, Ky.

IS MY MOTHER CALLING?

Say, is my mother calling? Is her voice I hear

Yondering over the water, sounding out loud and clear!

Do I not feel her heart beat, pulsing through distant space?

Do I not catch a vision Of her anxious, time-worn face!

Say, is my mother calling? With the cry of a stricken soul!

Is she tired of doing the housework? While her children play at school?

Is she weary of bearing the burden Of giving I stand idly by!

Of while I stand by the slaughter, Of giving her sons to die!

Say, is my mother calling? As she sits from the lone Transvaal

Must she drink from this cup unalloyed, Her bitterness mingled with gall?

Or shall we, as then, remember And we are all of one blood, one race,

And he who would injure my mother, Slays her daughter in the face!

My little sister, New Zealand, Feels the sting of her mother's pain

And speaks with the tongue of a Dreadnought.

And dares them to do it again, Australia is trimming her gun again.

Staring her bunkers with coal; She has heard the cry of mother;

It has burned in her very soul.

Mark! Yes my mother is calling, Send your ear to the breeze:

"Children of mine are you willing? Comes flashing across the seas.

What shall I answer, Mr. Wilford!

Will it be Dreadnought or fear! I wait with breathless impatience, My parliament's answer to hear.

Come! Build me a swift-winged messenger, With cannon both fore and aft!

Let me crowd on all steam to show my might.

Let not my slowness be chafed, Then, by the side of my mother,

The devil may do their worst! With the Maple Leaf nailed at the masthead,

To answer her call or be cursed.

—Ernest Hesborth.

Put a pint of milk in a double boiler, beat the yolks of three eggs with a teaspoonful of sugar, add to the milk and cook until done. Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatin in a little milk. Pour the custard over it and stir thoroughly; then strain and flavor with vanilla.

Add a pint of ripe cherries that have been rubbed through a sieve, the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and half a pint of whipped cream. Pour into the cake-lined mold and set on the ice to congeal. Serve with whipped cream.

Gingerbread—Two eggs, one cup of butter, one cup of brown sugar, one cup of Orizans molasses, one cup of sour milk, one teaspoonful soda stirred into the molasses, four cups flour, two tablespoonfuls ginger, adding two teaspoonfuls baking powder to the flour. When taken from the oven, spread with a teaspoonful of butter creamed with maple molasses.

ON A WAR FOOTING

CANADA is going to find out within the next few months, what it means to be "on a war footing."

Just what it means depends largely on how we meet the situation. It might mean continued dullness, depression, "hard times"—if we were to persist in thinking and talking "hard times."

It may, just as reasonably, mean prosperity—if we keep our heads and go after business in the right spirit of aggressiveness.

We might well follow the lead set us by some of our large industrial concerns.

An excellent example is furnished by our three leading automobile manufacturers.

One—making a high-priced car—has given instructions for the most aggressive selling campaign the company has ever undertaken; backed up by a big campaign of advertising in the newspapers.

Another, who makes various-priced cars of high quality, had a large announcement of 1915 models in a long list of papers the very week after war was declared.

A third—a Canadian branch factory of a United States concern making a popular-price car, is announcing an important price change—and taking larger space than ever before in Canadian newspapers to tell the story.

And this, be it noted, is the attitude of the three big men in an industry that the pessimists have been predicting would be seriously affected by the war. Their unshaken confidence, their greater-than-ever determination to market successfully a class of product that is always hard to sell, should be an inspiration to the rest of our industries. These three manufactures have tested advertising, and have confidence in its efficiency in stimulating business in times of war as well as in times of peace.

Instead of retrenching, the business men of Canada may well emulate the action of the motor car manufacturers, and go out after business in the most aggressive way possible.

the boys and treated them to cigars, cigarettes and tobacco at different points. Our boys had a car all to themselves. We have no idea how long we will be here but imagine about six weeks. The boys have purchased a Company camera and as soon as we get some pictures we will send them home.

"The camp here is fine. It is all covered with a nice soft moss. The area of the Government land is ten by ten miles and six by three of it is entirely covered with tents. There are tents as far as you can see and it is a fine sight, especially at night when the lights are all on."

TOWN COUNCIL

A special meeting of the Town Council was held in the Council Chambers, on Monday evening. The main item of business was the final passing of the Electric Light By-Law, which was carried by the citizens a week ago.

Just as soon as the agreements and contracts are signed—which will only be a matter of few days—the Company will start to work putting the plant into shape.

Engineer MacKay reported that he had fixed up the ditch in the rear of Thos. J. Stephens' property and others on Depot St. in a manner satisfactory to all concerned. Each party interested to pay his share of the cost.

"FIGHTING B" LEAVES FOR VAL CARTIER

The GRIMSBY boys who enlisted for foreign service in "Fighting B" Squadron, 2nd Dragoons, left St. Catharines on Thursday morning last for Valcartier, Quebec.

The boys looked spry and span after their week's drilling in the County town and made a smart appearance in the march to the station. The procession was headed by an old veteran carrying "The Flag" that's braved a thousand years, the battle and the breeze, and was followed by "Fighting B."

The hundred and fifty men of the 7th Field Battery, left the Armoury ahead of the enlisted men and formed up on both sides of the street, outside the building.

When the GRIMSBY boys came along Capt. Bell, stepped out and called for three cheers for Lieuts. Livingston and Long and "Fighting B" Squadron from GRIMSBY. The cheers were given in a hearty manner both by the Battery Boys and the citizens.

Mr. Wm. Gordie, Proprietor of the International Hotel where the boys stayed, sent them up a big basket of sandwiches, tomatoes and apples and other delicacies to cheer them on their way. This contribution elicited great praise and thanks from the boys for the genial "Billy". The boys were joined on the train by Lieut. Johnson and one hundred and fifty of the boys from the "Fighting B" Squadron and the 10th Regiment bunch.

boys for so nobly answering their country's call and giving themselves for the protection of their flag and millions of their countrymen. "May you prove as true soldiers of God as to our king, and return safely, each son to comfort his mother, each brother to his sister, and each husband to his waiting wife and loving little ones."

The "Boys" Remembered

Before, boarding the cars huge boxes of delicacies were heaped upon the boys by thoughtful friends. The boxes were all labeled and loaded on the baggage car to be transported with the men. Several men parted with packages with considerable reluctance, because as one remarked, "My last piece of the dear girl's pie is in there." Sergeant Martin and Joseph Savage arrived on the scene with an auto full of tobacco and presented each man with a package, "just to show where his heart was."

The companies left Toronto at 8 o'clock on four interurban cars and as they rolled out of the little town, leaving behind those near and dear to them, they were followed by the cheers that only such friends can give.

Puppy as Mascot

A St. Bernard puppy belonging to one of the Thorold men was taken as a company mascot.

A collar will be given the dog with a metal plate on which is to be inscribed "44th Lincoln and Welland Regiment."

CANADA IS HIGHLY

ing of the customs took some time, so we did not reach Glasgow until about 11 a.m.

One is struck by the vivid greenness of the grass in Scotland. The second crop of hay is being cut. In many fields of hay were in cock. In some places 600 were drawing it in one horse cart, upon which they were raking it up.

I saw a good many fields of oats and spring wheat between Greenock and Edinburgh. Both were ripening and it will not be long before they were ready to cut. Most of the fields which I saw were an excellent crop. The wheat crop in Great Britain this year is about 10 per cent above a full average.

I spent half a day in Glasgow, which has grown to be a very large city containing nearly one million people, but it covers less ground than Toronto. I at once went to see the Dominion people about my return ticket, which, fortunately I had secured at Hamilton and was informed that I could have my berth on the upper deck on the Letitia, sailing on the 22nd and that the boat would certainly sail. I was relieved at this as many of the steamers have been taken over by the Government for troops and numbers of sailings have been cancelled. Numbers of Canadians and Americans are stranded in this country, consequently, every vessel actually sailing, has every berth taken and the rates have been advanced to about double.

There are said to be 150,000 Americans alone stranded on the Continent of Europe, more particularly in Germany. Many of these are penniless and some are starving, as the German government has seized the banks and no drafts of any kind are honored. I was asked to attend a meeting of Canadians and Americans that afternoon in Glasgow, to consider the situation, but could not manage to do so. Germans are compelled to register at the nearest police office. If they do not do so they are liable to a fine of $500 and six months' imprisonment.

Edinburgh has grown considerably and is a most beautiful city. Together with Leith, it has a population of about 450,000. The two are absolutely one now.

I am staying with an old school fellow, who is one of the leading architects here. I am meeting lots of old friends and on Tuesday had a long interview with Charlie Chambers, the present head of the Chambers' Journal Printing Co.—an old chum of mine. He is also editor. He asked me to contribute some articles for him on Canada. He also asked me to dine with him and have a round of golf at Barnton, one of the best private courses near Edinburgh.

The car system in Edinburgh is all on the cable system. There are no unsightly poles, etc., and they give an excellent service. Not quite as fast as in Hamilton or Toronto, but they go at a very steady pace and you can travel about two miles for one penny and four miles for two pence (4c).

Prices of food stuffs, clothes, etc., are much less here than in Hamilton. I had a most excellent dinner at a restaurant off Prince's St. for 1 shilling and sixpence, or 30 cents. The following was the bill of fare: Soup—tomato or cream of chicken; Fish—fillet of sole (delicious); Meat—roast beef or curried mutton; Sweets—stewed prunes and rice or strawberry pudding (all splendidly cooked and served); biscuits and cheese (very good); cup of coffee. I had a most excellent glass of draught beer (14 cents).

Edinburgh is like an armed camp, soldiers everywhere. Lord Kitchen-er has called for 100,000 extra men, but this number is being far exceeded. 7,000 men are being enlisted daily. All the women are working at knitting socks and making shirts, etc., for the soldiers. The greatest enthusiasm and confidence in being shown by the people of Great Britain and enormous sums are being raised by public subscription, £48,000 in two days, or $3,240,000!!

Canada is being very highly praised for her contribution of men and of 1,000,000 bags of flour, also for the gift of half a million bushels of oats from Alberta.

Canada and Australia are each sending 20,000 troops at once and New Zealand 7,000.

Wherever I go people take a great interest in me when they hear I am a Canadian. Am sending you a paper but do not know when this or the paper will reach you, as mails are very uncertain. More in day or two, Yours etc., F. G. H. Pattison.
